STRANGER THAN FICTION-

The Words that Were Written in Bi Upon a Bank Note.

From the New York Sun.

Not long ago a wellknown collector of curiosities in Paris, who had devot-ed considerable sums of money to the ng together of bank notes of gathering together of bank notes of all countries and all values, became the possessor of a Bank of England five-pound note to which an unusually strange story was attached. This note was paid into a Liverpool merchant's office in the ordinary way of business sixty one years ago, and its recipient, the cashier of the firm, while helding it up to the light to test its genuineness, neticed some faint red marks upon it which, on closer examination, proved to be semi-effaced words scrawled in blood between the printed lines and upon the blank margine of the note. Extraordinary pains were taken to decipher these partly obliterated characters, and eventually the following sentence was made out: "If this note should fall into the hands of John Dean of Longhill, near Carlisle, he will learn hereby that his brother is languishing

Mr. Dean was promptly communicated with by the holder of the note, and he appealed to the government of the day for essistance in his eadeavors to obtain his brother's release from captivity. The prisoner, who, it subsequently appeared, had traced the above sentance upon the note with a splinter of wood dipped in his own blood, had been a slave to the Day of Agiers for cleven years, when this strange missive first attracted attention in a Liverpool counting house. His family and friends had long believed him dead. Eventually his brother, with the sid of the British authorities in the Mediterranean, succeeded in ransoming him from the Dey, and brought him home to England, where he did not long surviue his release, his constitution having been irreparably injured by exposure,

The Herole Cure of Insanity

A singular case of recovery from in-sanity through an injury occurred re-cently in the Homozopathic State Asy-lum for the Insane. A man patient, 24 years old, when in a state of violen irritation, sprang up to the gas fixture caught hold of a slender tubing and swung himself with considerable force swung himself with considerable force.
The fixture gave way and the patient foll, striking his head on the stone pavement. Instantly he arose, walked out of the ward, and gave a clear account of the accident he had met with. He had, in fact, recovered his mind, though he suffered greatly from the external injuries to his scalp. This case is not alone of its kind. Some physicians have seriously tried to raise physicians have seriously tried to raise the question of the splication of sudden and violent shaking of the head to the treatment of insanity; but as the quesculty, this heroic method remains op-

There are now two kinds of drunkenness, continuous and periodical. Either kind may be termed in all respects, a disease. That it is such is proved by the one factparties are frequently compelled to drink against their will or better judgment. The principal predisposing cause of drunk enness is a sanguine temperament, a strong incitable nervous system. Daily observation are more disposed to druukenness than those of feeble habits. Those weaklings affected with headaches after drinking rarely become

THE CURE -CINCHONA REBRA.

Cinchona bark was introduced into Europe about the year 1638, but it was not un-til about 1737 that the plant producing it was known to naturalists. In that year, a French man, on a journey to Lima, Peru, had the opportunity of examining the tree, a descrip tion of which (upon his return to Paris) he published in the Memoirs of the French Academy. So in thereafter, Linnens, the bot-anist, gave it the name of "Cinchona Officin-A recent visitor at the Hospice of St. Bernard says the eight dogs now there are anything but attractive specimens of the noble breed. According to the investigations of a Russian professor, Dr. Monassein, singing is an excellent means of preventing consumption, and for the development and strengthening the chest it is more efficient than even gymnastic exercises. The professor has examined 220 singers varying in age from nine to fifty-three years, and found that the chest is greater and strengthening the fashion at distinguished weddings in Paris, for page boys to be substituted for bridesmalds. They are all dressed alike, mostly in red or blue velvet or with silk-stockings and gold buckles, and, for their business, have to attend on the bride, carry her paryer book and boquet, support her train and veil and generally be at her bidding all the day. Toung brothers or relatives under twelve years of age are usually selected for the office. the tonic property; for an other substance, however powerful or permanent may be the excitement which it produces; interclaes a control over periodical afflictions at all comparable to Cinchona.

In all periodical diseases, such as occasional "spreeing" and ague, there are intervals of rest or freedem from the effects of the train of morbid actions going on in the recesses of the nervous system, and but one remedy is known which has the power during this intermission of preventing a return of the con-dition experienced prior to its administra-tion. That remedy is Cinchona Rubra. Ex-actly how it does this has not yet been satisfactorily explained; but that it does it has been acknowledged for over a hundred years. Indeed, all well-read and experienced medi-cal men admit that Cinchona has this wender a lanti-periodic property. Prepared and sold by Dr. R. D'Unger, Palmer House, Chicago, Illinois.

That Bright's disease, Diabetes, Pain in the back and loins, Smarting, Inflam-mation, Calculi, Brickdust deposit, or any trouble of the Kidneys or Bladder, is cured by house of Dr. Mintin's Naranations, the greachu Compound. It is the most wonder bles. Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale druggists, say: "We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Kemedy in the market." Woodwarf, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Everybody speaks highly of it." Childs, druggest, Portland, Oregon, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." The President's message to the Forty-Sixth Congress has been pub lished and goes to Congress to-day. It congratulates Congress on the success of the Resumption act, refers with satisfaction to the great revival in busines, which has followed, and to the increasing foreign demand for our manufactures and agricultural products. The gratifying improvement in the public credit is commented upon and it is pointed out that over$14,000, 000 have been annually saved in interest through refunding the public debt. It is proposed to refund $500,-000,000, now paying five per cent interest, by the lasue of more four per cent bonds, thus saving about $11,-000,000 a year to the Treasury.

The message recommende Congress not to legislate on the question of coinage. The coinage of gold in the last fiscal year was nearly $91,000,000.

The coinage of silver dollars since the act of authorization has been over The coinage of silver dollars since the act of authorization has been over $45,000,000, of which sum $32,000, President urges the suspension of the coinage of silver dollars upon the present legal ratio, pointing out that the market value of the silver dollar is uniformly and targely less than that of the gold dollar and the silver dollar is uniformly and targely less than that of the gold dollar, and that if both are coined without limit the cheape coin will become the standard of value and thus the movement towards a universal double standard of gold and silver be defeated.

The President declares his convic tion that the issue of legal tende paper money, based wholly on the authority and oredir of the Government, except in extreme urgency, is unconstitutional and a violation of sound financial principles. The pub-lic debt should be gradually extin guished, and should increased taxation become necessary, it is suggested that several millions can annually be easily raised by the increase of the duty on tea and coffee. In reference to polyg mends the enforcement of the laws for its suppression, even to the extent of depriving the polygamists of their rights and privileges as citizens.

The message earnestly deprecate the spirit of sectionalism, and strongly appeals for the exercise of freedom in voting, and for the protection of the suffrage.

On the subject of civil service reform, the message condemns the partisan spoils system of appointments and maintenance in office, and com mends the practice of Great Britain in holding competitive examinations of candidates for positions in the civil service. Appointments to office should be governed by personal merit, as evinced in regular competitive examinations, open to all citizens. They should not be the reward of party services, but should be based upon good character and competency.

The foregoing is a brief outline of the main features of the President's message. It commends itself to all good citizens by its good sense, breadth, liberality and moderation. It declares for honest money, for the payment of debts, for the pro-tection of the rights of citizens, for radical reform in the civil service, and for a solid nation.

WIFE-BEATING IN RUSSIA.

From the New York San.

In the government of Volhynis, Russia, justice appears to be administered after a very peculiar fashion. The wife of a well-to-do peasant addressesed herself to the court of the district with a complaint against her husband, charging him with beating and torturing her, and with keeping her in the cold without food until she had nearly died with starvation. He had nearly died with starvation. He had bound her stark naked to a post in the street and requested the passers-by to strike her, which he did himself each time they refused to do so. The brute had even fastened her down to brute had even fastened her down to the ground, and in such a position he heaped stones and heavy weights upon her body until one of her arms had been broken. When the wife's accusation was brought before the tribunal the man took fright and did not appear to answer the chaigs; but neither his absence nor contempt of court prevented the learned judges from coming to an immediate decision. The wife-beater was found "Not guilty," on the plea that a husband has the perfect right to beat his wife if he chooses, and it cannot be permitted to a wife to ignore the authority of her husband. Emboldened through the generous acquittal by his peers, he turnhusband. Emboldened through the generous acquittal by his peers he turn-ed the tables on his better half by

BOOTS AND SHOES

Sold of all Styles and Sizes.

A history of Reno which failed nention the boot and shoe house of John Sunderland, would be like the play of Hamlet without the Dare. Ever since the place was a mere village he has been at work gathering up the little rills of trade, from a vast extent of country. By judicious advertising, and the practice of good, old oned common sense and honesty, he has built up the largest boot and shoe trade between Sacrameuto and Omaha. There is hardly a corner of the Great Basin to which his goods do not find their way. He has customers around Goose lake in the north and Bodie on the south. He fits the feet of saw mill men on the Truckee, miners in Pyramid, and ranchers on the meadows. His leather is worn out by pedestrians in the big matches, by clerks behind the counters matches, by clerks behind the counters and by boys and girls at school. There is hardly a ball given in the state where dainty slippers off his shelves do not, like little mice, glide in and out, from beneath the skirts of the village belies. There are very few men in this state who have profited more by advertising than Mr. Sunderland. He has used PRINTER'S INK. not only liberally, but with taste and judgment. When he has anything to say to his customers, and the pub lic at large, he does not paint it on a board and tack it up on a feuce post.

He engages a good place in the GAZETTE, and displays it, so that the numerous readers of that valuable paper cannot fail to see it. By so doing he not only keeps people posted as to what he has to sell, but he makes friends of those who have a liking for the paper. And also makes other friends by proving himself a patron of the liberal arts, chief among which, in this age, is the art of printing. The man who advertises well what he has to sell, is of the greatest value to a community. If a man is inclined to community. If a man is inclined to be progressive, and keeps his stock up to, or a little in advance of the needs of his trade, he need only to be a good advertiser to bring patronage worthy of his efforts. And no matter how sleepy a town he may be in, or how dull his neighbors may be, he will give life to the currents of business, and make a name for himself and his town together. In all of Sunderland's and make a name for himself and his town together. In all of Sunderland's advertisements he only promises what he is fully able to perform. On his shelves will be found a stock of goods which averages the year round $35-000. There is no such thing as neg-lect or carelessness in ordering goods. As fast as there is they are ordered, and every line is kept complete. In his spacious cellars there is a reserve equal to that displayed in the sales room. There Cuningham's hall.

ROOM FOR MORE

— A man named McKenzie was arrested Saturday night for drunk and disorderly conduct.

— Burchard & McClelland put up a might for drunk and ladies' and children's shoes of all kind. In convenient places are shoe-maker's findings, including everymaker's findings, including everything in a boot, from the calf skin to the hog's bristles to sharpen the waxed end. The store is so well-known that any description is unnecessary. It is the only building in the whole business portion of Reno which showed it self fire proof last. March. That one big window was the only one that had a glass in it on the evening of that disastrous Sunday. The proprietor was mershon & Traver, of the Boca
Beer saloon, have leased John Hoy's Ohio House, and are running full all the time.

— The story about a burglary at Amos Alt's premises on Thanksgiving night grew out of his loss of some article of trifling value.

— The Reform Club and Ladies'
Union are making arrangements for a gotten up, and his head gear is now manufactured in Philadelphia to his specifications. His rubber goods are made for him in Boston, and by L. Candee & Co., New Haven, Conn., for whom he is the agent. He gets all the finest styles of arctics, monitors, etc. that are made, course and fine, for both ladies and gentlemen. He gets of shoes made in the United States And all made to his own order, especially suited to the dry climate of Nevada. He has contracts with Burt. Nevada. He has contracts with Burt, with Holbrook & Ludlow, with Woodmansee & Garside, and with Laird, Shover & hitchell for the best work they can make. His men's slippers are made in Philadelphia. His heavy boots and shoes in Rocliester; his fine, hand-sewed goods in Newark, N. J.; his valises, ladies' satchels, ahawl wrappers, and brushes is New York; his gloves in San Jose; his blacking and calf skins in Paris, France; his sole leather comes from Stockton. He sells and calf skins in Paris, France; his sole leather comes from Stockton. He sells a good many things which would be too numerous to mention. Men's overgaiters and socks, hlanket gloves, trunks; canvas hunting boots that come up to a man's waist, etc. At the rear door stands a brick building latez feet where five men are constantly employed making boots and shoes for those who have figureits bunches and knobs to protect. There are a good many people who cannot wear gueds off the shelves, and to make a boot set easy on tender corns, is one of the opportunities for genius. It is hardly necessary to say that the workmen who occupy the five benches in this shor, are men of superior skill, and are under the best of discipline, and that every effort is made to give good work and good fits. In addition to his other goods, Mr.

Sunderland is agent for the United Workingmen's Cooperative Associa-tion of San Francisco, and sells a full line of goods of their manufacture. Men's stoga boots, fine calf tap and double soled. Ladies', misses' and childrens' calf shoes, all of which are of the finest work made on the Pacific ceast.
